- Introduce the company's story, product and service solutions to prospective and existing accounts
- Identify, structure, negotiate and close deals
- Work with the Customer Success team to maintain strong relations, renew successful partnerships and optimize subscription sales through a robust onboarding and training program
- Research and identify unrealized business segment opportunities that are scalable and profitable
- Understand industry technology systems and shifts and provide creative feedback and potential solutions back to the product and technical development teams (case studies)
- Collaborate with Product Management and Marketing teams to develop current and new product positioning and messaging that resonates with targeted accounts and growers
- Maintain a high level of energy and activity
- Document and manage all sales and business development activities
- Ability to accept and embrace change within fast-paced business environment

REQUIREMENTS & QUALIFICATIONS

- Motivated, results oriented, self-starter with 5+ years of experience in production agriculture and technology
- Proven track record and experience in sales, business development and/or relationship management
- Strong set of relationships and understanding of the agricultural cooperative system, precision ag / data management, large farming operations and/or OEMs
- Deep understanding of value drivers and ability to inspire others
- Superior sales skills (cold calling, lead generation, business development, etc.)
- Strong direct and channel sales skills
- Able to think creatively and strategically and have a proven track record in aligning and driving deals to successful completion
- Experience in the full sales cycle including closing
- Strong presentation, negotiation and selling skills
- Ability to manage influence through persuasion, negotiation, and consensus building
- Ability to work independently from home
- Open to travel 50% of the time
- Excellent verbal, written and presentation ability

BENEFITS

- Be a key member of the Commercial team in a startup company that is laying the foundation for the future of data management and digital agriculture
- Have the opportunity to take immediate action and have a significant impact on the success of the company
- Work in a transparent, entrepreneurial environment where you can feel respected
- Work for a company that expects you to challenge the status quo and think creatively
- Eligible for Farmobile's retirement savings plan and group health plans, including medical, dental, vision and other voluntary benefits
